The prime object of such a law ...uld be to spur immediate en-...tments of those subject to call, ...s filling vacant ranks in line ...th President Truman's plea for ...engthened armed forces.

The standby plan developed at ...time when Mr. Truman's pro-...sals and policies were under ...sh attack from his fired cab-...t member, Henry A. Wallace.

Wallace Blasts Back

Some Republicans said they ...ant to know that, too. But they ...re careful not to side with ...allace. And almost none of ...em, including Taft, would com-...ent on the former vice presi-...nt's charges.

Discussing the wait-and-see ...aft plan, Taft said he still ...oubts that a large army is need-... He has virgorously opposed ...MT. BURGLARS FAIL TO OPEN SAFE Believed Scared Away Before Completing Job on Strong Box in LaRue.

Account of safe robbery at Delaware appears on Page 3.

Safecrackers operating in neighboring counties were thought to have extended operations into Marion county last night when an unsuccessful attempt was made at a LaRue tavern, Sheriff LeRoy Retterer reported this morning.

Burglars succeeded in entering the establishment operated by John C. "Coonie" Krebs on South High street and removing the safe to the alley in the rear before apparently being scared off, the sheriff said.

Owner in Florida

Burglary was discovered at about 6 a. m. by Melville Sperry manager of the tavern in the absence of the owner vacationing in Florida. Entrance was gained by prying open a lavatory window, the sheriff said. Marks on the floor showed the three foot square safe had been wheeled from its position near the front of the tavern the length of the building and out through the back door.

Handle and dial had been knocked off and the door partially pried open before the job was abandoned. Extent of the contents was not disclosed.

The New York Central railroad freight agent had called Town Marshal Vernie Gamble at 3 a. m. after hearing noises in the vicinity of box cars on a siding several doors north of the tavern. He said he thought someone might be tampering with the cars.

Marshal Checks Area

Gamble checked the area but found nothing, Retterer said. No further investigation was made at the time.

A check of the tavern this morning revealed no fingerprints to give authorities a lead. Only prints found were on a showcase moved to get at the safe, and these were glove prints. Rain early this morning blurred footprints on the ground and washed out any chances of obtaining prints from the safe.

As in the Delaware burglary Wednesday night when the Chamber of Commerce office there was looted of more than $1,800, authorities have little to go on. They believe however that the same outfit may be doing the series of safe burglaries reported recently in the neighboring counties.

COLUMBUS, O., March 19 — No substantial business recession is likely in 1948, Dr. Clifford L. James told the annual spring meeting of the Ohio Valley Chapter of Robert Morris associates yesterday. The Ohio State university economics professor said "as the situation looks now, the rest of this year will be a period mainly of readjusting prices." Bank credit executives from five states attended the one-day meeting.

Scandinavian Leaders Join Anti-Red Lineup

By The Associated Press

Scandinavian leaders joined the western European lineup against communism today. Premiers of Norway, Sweden and Denmark took their stand while delegates in Finland, to the east, got last-minute instructions for Moscow negotiations toward a Soviet-Finnish treaty.

The Communists were accused at the same time of having a five-nation committee working on Italy, where an election is scheduled April 18, and on France. They also were charged with having an international brigade ready to attack Greece.

The Moscow radio said today President Truman's preparedness speech to congress Wednesday and the five-power Brussels pact signed that day favor American imperialists and militarists.

Accuses Cominform

Italian Premier Alcide de Gasperi said the nine-nation Communist International Information Bureau (Cominform) has a special five-nation secret committee to "issue directives to synchronize the conduct of Communists in Italy and France."

Official dispatches to Washington from Athens, the U. S. state department said yesterday, estimate that three divisions, or 30,000 men, are in an international brigade near the Greek border in Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria.

The department said the men are believed to be mostly Albanians and Greeks with overall Russian military direction, though no Soviet tactical officers. It said an attack is thought most likely from Albania.

Arrest Russians

In Paris, a spokesman for the French security police said today they had arrested 11 Russians in a private home. He did not give the reason. The interior ministry said yesterday France will deport leaders of the banned Union of Soviet citizens.

Turkey's military attache in Sofia, Bulgaria, and his assistant returned home last night. Official sources would not say whether they had been recalled or kicked out.

Three Hungarian diplomatic workers in Turkey were reported ordered back to Budapest. They were counselors of the Ankara embassy and of the Istanbul consulate and the Istanbul consul general. The order was not explained.

Greece, Turkey Help Approved

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 19— The senate foreign relations committee today approved $275,000,000 aid for Greece and Turkey.

Senator George (D-Ga) told a reporter the 13 senators lined up unanimously for the full amount President Truman asked for the Greeks and Turks.

George said the committee then began a closed-door discussion of the proposed $570,000,000 aid for China.

COAL STRIKE IS THE TOPIC. Conferences to explore settlement prospects with the United Mine Workers and industry officials in connection with the coal strike got under way in Washington, D. MESSAGE GOES TO UMW CHIEF IN LETTER FORM

Asserts Shutdown Is Violation of Contract but Does Not Threaten Suit.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 19—Soft coal operators today appealed to John L. Lewis to end the mine shut down and offered to negotiate on his demand for miners' pensions.

The pension demand is the key to the dispute that touched off the five-day-old walkout, which already has forced a cutback in rail and steel operations.

Producers, who account for three-fourths of the nation's soft coal output, made their plea in a letter to Lewis.

They charged that the mine shutdown violated their work agreement with Lewis' United Mine Workers.

Nevertheless, they did not threaten to take any legal action against Lewis or the union. The Taft-Hartley act permits damage suits for breaking contracts.

Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the major operators, said they wanted to sit down with Lewis and talk over the pension dispute. But he made it clear they would not move until he sent the 350,000 idle miners back to work.

Previously the operators had weighed court action against Lewis' miners today as a bid to halt the five-day-old shutdown.

At the same time the government prepared to add freight curbs to its railroad passenger train limitations if the fuel crisis mounts.

The mine owners planned a news conference in late morning to outline their strategy after two days of talks. The Taft-Hartley act permits employers to sue unions for damages for breaking contracts.

Whether the current walkout is a breach of contract is subject to legal interpretation. But the mine owners are known to have looked into every possibility of phasing their market losses of the past five days on the Lewis union.

The United Mine Workers' chief said the operators had "dishonored their contract by not agreeing to his demand for a $100 monthly pension for miners over 60 years of age and with 20 years' service.

He called on his miners last Friday to consider the pension question at local meetings. On Monday the men began staying away from work in large numbers. By today the industry was virtually at a standstill.

Besides the loss of coal production, steel mills and railroads were quickly slowed down.

A 25 per cent cut in coal burning passenger train service, effective Sunday, was ordered yesterday. That step will affect about 11 per cent of all passenger trains.

Government officials who said a curtailment of freight service was in prospect declined to go into details.

But they disclosed that J. Monroe Johnson, office of defense transportation director, was hurrying back to Washington from the west coast to keep in instant touch with the situation.

N.Y.C. Rail Schedules Affected by Strike

The government's demand for reduction in the use of coal-burning locomotives today brought several changes in schedules by the New York Central railroad, an Associated Press dispatch out of Cleveland reports.

Robert H. Stief, agent at the Union station said today he had received no notice of changes of schedules or discontinuance of trains on the Erie or C. & O. railroads.

The only change affecting Marion passenger service is the combination of the Cleveland Limited, Cleveland-New York, with the Texas section of the Southwestern Limited, both westbound and due here in the morning. The Southwestern Limited due at 8:20 a. m. is a conditional stop for passengers for Indianapolis and points west. The limited, which has been scheduled 22 minutes later, stopped here for passengers for St. Louis and western points.

Two trains, No. 41 and 433, on the Cleveland division which [illegible] have been discontinued, [illegible] local, is due at Orrville at 9 a. m. and No. 433 at 2:38 p. m.

NEIGHBORS JOIN TO BATTLE GRASS FIRE

Area South of Marion Swept by Blaze.

Neighbors and passersby worked nearly three hours last night, together with the owners, to put out a grass fire that, fanned by wind, swept over about four acres of field land located on the Smeltzer road south of the Cardington pike. The fire spread west and north. It started about 7:30 on the chicken lot of the 3.6 acre tract on which the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gale McDougle is located.

The McDougles were burning off the lot when thistles, to which the flames had spread, rapidly fed the blaze. It was out of control when several persons, attracted to the scene, began assistance in the fire fighting. Brooms and pitchforks were employed, as well as jackets which the men had stripped off to beat at the flames. The fire spread to land owned by Henry Dutt, Carl Miller and E. L. Strine.

It was carried away from the buildings on the McDougle land, but threatened houses on the south side of the Cardington pike. There is no fire protection to that area. Financial loss on the land was slight.

Mr. McDougle is employed as assistant manager at the Singer Sewing Machine Co. in Marion.

Grass Fire Threatens Ashley Park Buildings

By The United Press

ASHLEY, March 19 — Strong wind yesterday and last night fanned grass fires in this area which threatened cottages at Woolley park at Ashley and farm buildings northeast of town. A fire which started in a field near the park about 3 p. m. is thought to have resulted from sparks from a passing locomotive. Ashley firemen fought the blaze and employed sacks and shovels to keep it from spreading to cottages at the park which is used during the summer for the Ashley Spiritualist camp. The cottages are occupied the year around. Boy Scouts did much to assist the firemen. At 8 p. m., when brush was being burned on the Fred Matthes farm northeast of here, wind spread the fire over a considerable area, burning about 20 minutes. Flames were within 20 feet of the barn an the property at one time. Firemen used portable pumps, shovels and anything else available that could be employed to help check spread of the fire.

Marshall Sees Need for Action

By The Associated Press

BERKELEY, Calif., March 19— Secretary Marshall today declared quick action is needed to stop the spread of communism—but added "the door is wide open for any general conciliatory moves" by Russia.

The secretary of state compared the spread of communist influence in Europe with Hitler's tactics. "Never before in history has the world situation been more threatening to our ideals and interests than at the present time," he told a University of California Charter day audience. He called for prompt enactment of the European Recovery Program to check the advance of communism.

At the same time, he left the door open for lasting friendship with Russia. He defined United States policy as: "To stand firm on basic principles but at the same time to keep the door wide open for any general conciliatory moves."

Marshall termed a "depressing aspect" of the world situation "the duplication in Europe of the high-handed and calculated procedure of the Nazi regime." "It should now be perfectly clear that rule based on threats and force instead of on reason and justice must not be allowed to spread further unchecked," the secretary said.

Columbus Case To Determine Validity of Conservancy Tax

The Marion county board of revision will take no action at this time upon a complaint filed by four railroads on the Scioto-Sandusky conservancy district tax levy, County Auditor Harry V. Mounts said today.

The New York Central, the Pennsylvania, the Erie and the Chesapeake and Ohio railroads sought a hearing on the three-tenths mill conservancy district levy from the Marion county board, which comprises the county auditor, the county treasurer and chairman of the county commissioners. The railroads contend that the levy should be assessed on their real estate holdings only. Conservancy district officials seek the assessment on combined personal property and real estate.

Similar hearings have been sought in each of 15 other counties in the conservancy district by a total of 11 railroads operating in Ohio. Initial complaint was made in Franklin county, parent county of the conservancy district.

Court Battle Ahead

A court battle looms between the railroads and the conservancy district over what is construed as personal property in connection with the railroads. Conservancy district officials filed suit in Columbus this week seeking to restrain the Franklin county board from hearing the railroads' complaint.

Franklin county Common Pleas Judge John R. Kitg yesterday denied the conservancy district's request for a temporary injunction that would block the hearing of the complaint. He told the attorneys for the conservancy district they were asking the court to halt performance of duty and obligations required by state law of the board of revision. Hearing of the railroads case has been tentatively set for Monday.

The suit, officials believe, may result in a "test case" which will have direct bearing on each of the counties in the district which comprises an approximately 50-mile wide strip down the middle of the state from Lake Erie to the Ohio river.

In view of the fact that the issue is the same in each county it has been verbally agreed by the parties to abide by the ruling made in Franklin county as governing action throughout the conservancy district in the matter of the railroads. The Marion county board thus will take no action on the levy against the railroads in Marion county pending determination of the issue in Franklin county.

The three-tenths mill conservancy tax which went on the county duplicate in December was estimated to raise more than $19,000 in Marion county. The railroads' public utility valuation in Marion county is $10,094,470 or approximately 15 per cent of the total real and public utility valuation in the county. Their conservancy tax payment in Marion county is figured at $2,938.62.

The four railroads have yet to pay the full amount of the conservancy tax, the county treasurer's office reported. Vouchers received by County Treasurer Marion Hinklin included full payment of the regular tax but only that portion of the conservancy tax computed on the railroads' valuation of real estate in Marion county excluding personal property.

RECRUITERS REPORT INCREASE IN CALLS

Many Veterans Inquire About Army and Navy Reserves.

The rush of veterans and young men of possible draft age which has swamped recruiting stations of the Army, Navy, and Air Force throughout the nation, following President Truman's "crisis" address to congress, has had a proportionate effect here local Army and Navy recruiters reported today.

A large number of the recruiters visitors sought only information concerning their present status and possible effect of the draft, while others filed applications for enlistment or signified their intention of enlistment at an early date.

Both Marion recruiting stations reported about half of those seeking information from the recruiters were veterans. Representatives of Army enlisted reserve components reported a heavy enlistment in the reserve by veterans. This was attributed by army sources to the regulation which permits veterans to enlist in the reserve in their wartime rating held at time of discharge and permits them to advance to higher ratings in the organized reserve. The veteran is thereby removed from local draft board control yet cannot be called to active duty without an act of congress.

[illegible] stations have exhibited an eight hundred [illegible] in reserve enlistment since [illegible] report.

Text of Smith Statement On Truman Speech

A news report from Washington quotes the full text of the comment by Congressman Frederick C. Smith of Marion on the President's message to congress on the world situation, as follows

"The President's speech is the most tragic communication ever received by our people from any high public official of the United States In effect he told the nation that we have lost the peace, that our whole war effort was in vain. He complained that the administration had tried to cooperate with Stalin in achieving peace but instead Stalin had used his powers to frustrate peace Surely this is a late hour to find out that we can't deal with Stalin or anybody else who believes in Communism, for Communism itself is a state of perpetual war

"What is needed in Washington now is a thorough and sweeping house cleaning If we had had men at the head of our government who were not themselves sympathetic to communism the situation we are facing today would not be with us Therein lies the secret of the trouble in which we now find ourselves.

"Of course, Mr. Truman wants to create a condition of hysteria in the congress and the nation to regain his lost support"

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATION

CHRIST in You, THE HOPE of Glory

STOP—LOOK—LISTEN

John 3.14. "As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up"

AS WE travel through the country and come to a railroad crossing we many times see a sign STOP—LOOK—LISTEN I ask you to see the cross of Christ with the eye of your soul, and stop, look and listen to the Word of God:

"For God so loved the world, that he gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life For God sent not His Son into the world to condemn the world but that the world through Him might be saved"

"He that believeth on him is not condemned but he that believeth not is condemned already because He hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God" John 3 16-18

Can you, my readers, think of anything more helpful for you to do than to accept Jesus Christ as your Saviour? Accept Him as your Saviour now, and unite with the church of your choice. Live for Him every day.

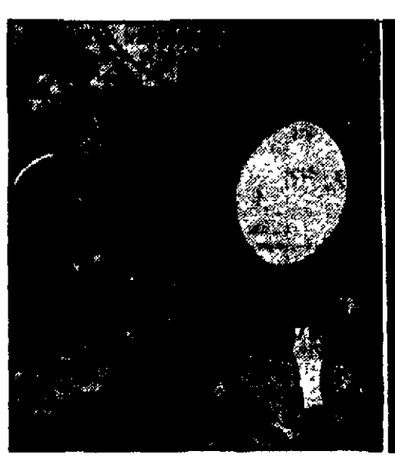
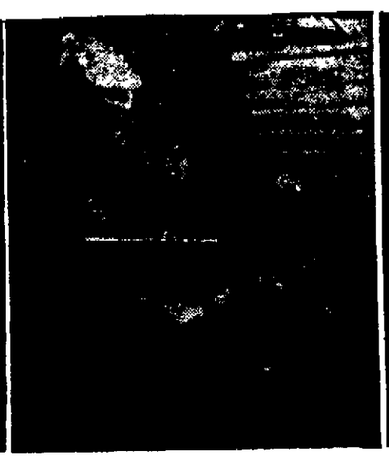
Petty Officers, First Class, can earn up to $148.50. All grades get 20% additional for overseas or foreign service.

Chief Petty Officers earn real money . . . can retire on comfortable life incomes up to $185.63 every month for life . . . plus numerous additional benefits. Many "Chiefs" retire while still in their "thirties"!



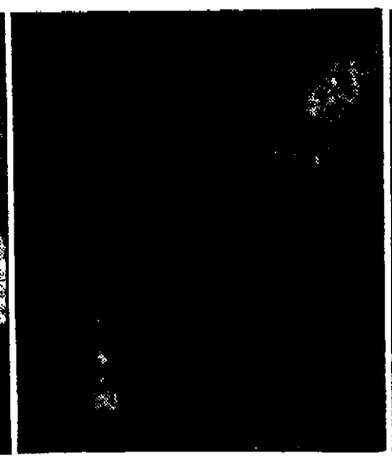
Radar fascinates many young men. The Navy has been, and will continue to be, a leader in the development and application of this phase of electronics.



A good machinist is valuable anywhere. Many highly successful men in this field got their first training in the schools and shops of the Navy.

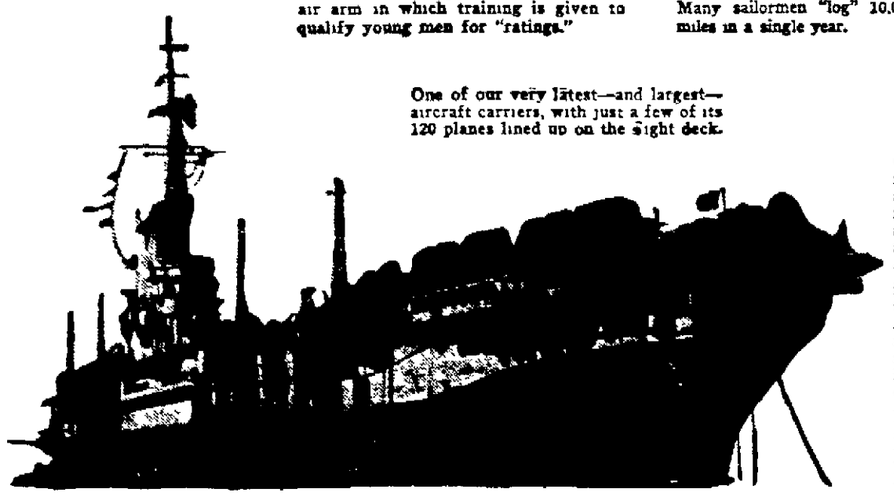
Micro-Photography is just one branch of photography taught Navy photographers, along with aerial and ground motion picture and "still" photography.

It goes without saying that aircraft play a leading role in today's Navy. There are more than 20 specialties in the Naval air arm in which training is given to qualify young men for "ratings."



Travel is part of every Navy man's life. Here a light cruiser is anchored off the island of Vieques in the West Indies. Many sailormen "log" 10,000 to 20,000 miles in a single year.

Navy men literally "go places" . . . see new lands, new sights. This group of sailors are giving the first "once over" to a foreign port. A few hours later they'll be combing the shops for souvenirs.



One of our very latest—and largest—aircraft carriers, with just a few of its 120 planes lined up on the flight deck.

Our great peacetime Navy needs intelligent, ambitious, dependable young men to operate and maintain the complicated mechanisms of modern ships and aircraft.

That's why so much emphasis is given to training . . . in more than 80 skills and specialties . . . engineering, electrical work, accounting, printing, baking, aerology, pharmacy, map making, optics . . . the list is almost endless.

If you want to fit yourself for a better-than-average job, a well paid, lifetime skill, the Navy's proposition is well worth your looking into.

...cracking job was the ...lled off in Delaware in ...o months. Hoffman ...ave been carried out in the same manner leading the chief to believe the burglaries to be the work of professionals. Similar jobs have been pulled in nearly all sections of central Ohio in the past few months, he pointed out. Few clues have been left in all cases.

Safe experts from the London prison farm were here again to go over the safe and office for finger prints. None were found, Hoffman said. Although the Chamber's safe furnished the largest loot, it was the easiest to smash, he reported. The combination had been hammered off and then one of the two hinges causing the safe door to fall open. Entrance to the building was made through the front door by picking the lock.

Meanwhile city officials and representatives of the police and sheriff's departments met in an emergency session yesterday to consider ways and means of combatting the burglary wave. Appointment of additional police protection was suggested by Chief Hoffman who recommended an additional patrolman and continuous checks of the business district at night. Possibilities of replacing the present system of cruiser patrol by "beats" on foot were also considered as a means of halting the burglaries. The Delaware Gazette. Willis High School, Gould Motor Sales and the McKee Service Station were the scenes of earlier burglaries.

SEMINARY PRESIDENT IS KIWANIS SPEAKER

Rt. Rev. Paul Glenn of Columbus Speaks on Saints.

The Marion Kiwanis club observed St. Patrick's Day at its weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Hotel Harding with a talk by the Right Rev. Paul J. Glenn, president of St. Paul's Seminary at Columbus. Harold J. Grigsby was in charge of the program for the day.

Rev. Glenn spoke on the saints and stressed that they stand out as great models of self control. He said, "They lived in a manner which should be a model to all of us, we who are very much in need of direction and encouragement."

He explained that our home life must be controlled and that we must learn to say no to impulses. Rev. Glenn added that too often we place human comforts ahead of everything else that goes to make up a world, and that the current generation, which has lived so highly, is not satisfied.

Attendance tabs for perfect attendance were awarded by Z. Stout, a member of the attendance committee. Tabs were presented to Jay Newell, three years, Robert G. Henry, four years, Robert E. O'Connell, five years, John W. Dowler and E. Paul Bachman, seven years, and J. D. Torrance, eight years.

Junior Kiwanians from Harding High school and St. Mary Parochial school who will attend Kiwanis meetings for the next 10 weeks were introduced. They are James Wanner, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Wanner of 393 Windsor street, and Harold Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Patterson of 232 Summit street, of Harding, and John Baldauf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baldauf of 228 South Grand avenue, and James Moloney of 449 North Prospect street, of St. Mary.

Guests were the Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, V. F., pastor of St. Mary Catholic church, Louis Rubeck of Marion, John W. Hoke of Crestline and Rayburn S. Chamberlain of Columbus.

Plans were made for the council to attend a district rally of District No. 4 to be held in the afternoon and evening of April 7 at Crestline. A St. Patrick's Day program was presented following the meeting with Mrs. Essie Thompson in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Van ... Deventer and 16-year-old son Bobby appear on the program as the regular board of experts. The fourth member of the board is Herb Polesie, and there is a guest expert each week.

The show manages to produce considerable fun for all concerned, mainly due to the fact that the audience (both radio and studio) knows the answer but the contestants do not.

This sometimes produces grey hairs for Bill Slater, the master of ceremnies. For example, Herb Polesie's question, "Would I give it to mother-in-law?" was innocent enough, although the audience got a howl out of it because the subject he was trying to identify turned out to be a skunk. The undisputed master of the game is 16-year-old Bobby. He once guessed "The Brooklyn Dodgers" in one try. Twenty Questions now has counterparts in Canada, England, France and even Japan. Radio Tokyo calls its version "Twenty Doors."

STICKS TO JOB. E. F. Miller and his stamp collection.

STAMP COLLECTOR NEEDS NO ALBUM

By The Associated Press

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—It might sound wacky, but to E. F. Miller wallpapering a bedroom with postage stamps is just another way of collecting them—and he doesn't have to turn album pages.

An air-conditioning expert by day, Miller whiles away his evening hours glueing stamps of all sizes, colors and denominations to his 14 by 14 room.

Starting the tedious project a year ago, Miller estimates he has stuck some 35,000 stamps on the ceiling and one wall, alone.

No definite design to his "album," Miller says. He just "grabs 'em and sticks 'em." But the big airmailers do make a mighty pretty border, he adds.

The final touch is a coat of shellac.

Officers Are Elected By Clearing House

Officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Marion Clearing House association held Wednesday afternoon at the National City bank. Francis B. Huber of the Fahey Banking Co. was elected president, succeeding Robert E. White of the National City Bank. Russell C. Snare of the Marion County Bank, was named vice president, and E. Paul Bachman of the National City Bank, secretary-treasurer.

Making up the Clearing House association are the National City Bank of Marion, Fahey Banking Co. and Marion County Bank.

SERVICES AT ASHLEY

Special features will be presented at a Palm Sunday evening service at Ashley Methodist church, and Holy week services will be held Wednesday and Thursday nights, with Good Friday services that afternoon and in the evening, it was announced. Sunday night, a drama will be presented by five junior department boys, Rev. H. L. Borden, pastor, will speak, and special music will be a part of the program. Training by Any Other Name

THERE MAY be less real disagreement about the proper way to give the armed services the manpower they need than appears on the surface.

Arguments that make selective service and universal training seem to be alternatives are tricky. Young men called from home for military training might be aware of a distinction between the two but no actual difference.

President Truman proposes revival of selective service as a temporary expedient, with military training as a long-term solution. But if selective service were kept in effect long enough it would tend to become military training in effect.

It would be a form of training for selected trainees. In the absence of a shooting war, quotas would be small and would be filled with the youngest men available. Many young men would volunteer, as they did after the end of the last war. In this connection, it's recalled that the demonstration universal military training unit at Fort Knox is comprised of young men obtained in this way. The principal difference between them and the kind of young men who would be there under UMT is the fact they are in the regular service, draw regular service pay and could be called on to fight without the formality of an act of congress.

Electoral Checker Game

TOP-FLIGHT political maagers are taking note of a constitutional amendment proposed by Representative Gossett of Texas. The house judiciary committee has reported favorably on it.

The Texan wants to stop the checker game played every four years with electoral votes. He believes these votes reflect the undue influence of minorities in certain pivotal states.

The way his proposed amendment would work resembles proportional representation, now used by some municipalities to control bloc voting. A state's electoral votes, instead of being given to the presidential candidate receiving majority of the state's total votes for president, would be given in proportion to the size of the majority. Thus, in New York State, a happy hunting ground for politicians playing the game of minority politics, the fact a presidential candidate might earry the state by rolling up a big total in New York city wouldn't give him all of New York's 47 electoral votes, but only the percentage he had mustered in the popular election.

While Representative Gossett's proposal is another sock at President Truman on the civil rights issue, which southern Democrats interpret as a bid for the support of key minorities in northern pivotal states, it also is a proposal for reform of the electoral college—a matter that has been long neglected.

Britain Takes Steps

UNTIL recently, Britain regarded fear of Communist disruption from within as an American foible. Evidence that this attitude has changed came recently when Prime Minister Attlee announced steps would be taken to keep Communists out of "sensitive" government agencies.

Justifying this decision, Mr. Attlee said, "Experience both in this country and elsewhere has shown that membership of, and other forms of continuing association with, the Communist party may involve acceptance by an individual of a loyalty which in certain instances can be inimical to the state."

While aware that some might suffer under this policy, the prime minister said it would be futile to attempt to separate Moscow-controlled Communists from theoretical disciples of Marxism, who might conceivably stand with his country in a crisis. Therefore, he charged cabinet ministers with responsibility for the loyalty of their subordinates.

Now Britain, too, will hear the cry of uprooted Communists demanding their "rights"—the rights which quickly disappear in all countries seized by Communists.

What Makes a Good Driver?

CONNECTICUT'S department of motor vehicles is conducting research to find out why some people are good drivers and some aren't.

The investigators will closely question 100 persons whose driving records are among the worst in the state. Attitude, temperament, muscular coordination and general physical condition will be studied. After this, 100 volunteer drivers, each with more than 100,000 safe miles, will undergo similar questioning and examination. Then the two groups will be compared.

It's doubtful if the clinical approach will uncover a cure for careless drivers, but it may be possible to assemble information showing who will become a good driver and who won't. The study also may uncover information which will help in training novice drivers. As for drivers whose records place them at the bottom of the safety list, they might be given sales talks on the economy and convenience of public conveyances.

The greatest U.S. death loss in a single fire was at Peshtigo, Wis., when 1,200 people died Oct. 9, 1871, the same day the historic Chicago fire started.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Alarms! Alarms! and Their Background.

THE record ought to be kept very straight in these days of alarms and excitement. An historical error can never be corrected; it sets up a chain of events which proves in the direction set by the error until it wears itself out, or is diverted by other events or is stopped by force.

Among a free people, those who participated in the errors must be held responsible for them. It may be pleasant for those who built reputations and made political profit by causing mistakes to make us forget what they did and said when the going was smooth. However, now that their mistakes are being uncovered, they shout, "Stop thief!" We have to assume that those who supported Roosevelt's policy at Teheran and Yalta and Truman's policy at Potsdam, and such trivia as Dumbarton Oaks and Bretton Woods, are responsible for our present misfortunes. It will avail them nothing, for they face the facts of their own incompetence. There is no longer any cover-up.

SOKOLSKY

Therefore, when Jimmy Byrnes or George Marshall or Averell Harriman gets terribly excited about the evils of the Russians, I challenge them to deny the charge that they were accessories before the event, that they condoned in advance the rape of European civilization by Stalin, that Franklin D. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill, in advance, consented to the despoliation of our allies and the countries we liberated. At Potsdam, President Truman joined in these operations.

Call for New Leaders

Now, were these men and others to confess their sins, were they to assume moral responsibility for what they did, even if they pleaded ignorance, it would be possible to forgive them while pitying the country that fell into their hands. But when they deliberately reverse themselves and, shouting louder than anyone else, demand a war to correct their errors, we must say to them that if it is another war they managed to get for us, we may have no alternative but to offer our sons as sacrifices, but we want better, more competent and more truthful managers. We cannot trust those who lied to us.

On Feb 13, 1945, it was reported that War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes returned to Washington from Yalta and disclosed that President Roosevelt proposed the formula for the solution of the Polish question. Mr. Byrnes did not say that he, Byrnes, opposed that solution nor did he tell us then that other arrangements were made there, even an arrangement making Soviet Russia the successor to Japan's rights and privileges in Manchuria in direct violation of our treaties with China since 1844 and constantly renewed. Mr. Byrnes said nothing about that. Nor did General Marshall or Averell Harriman, or any of the ex-New Deal commentators who are trying to run General Eisenhower on the Democratic ticket as part of a war scare.

Nothing Resembling Peace

On June 15, 1945, General Eisenhower told a press conference in Paris that so far as he is concerned, there is nothing to indicate that cooperation with the Russians is impossible. He said that "Peace lies with all the peoples of the world, not just for the moment with some political leader." I never quite knew how the people would produce peace unless they did it through their political leaders in control of their government. The fact is that they have not produced a peace, nor a peace treaty, nor a formula for peace, and they are all again talking about another war as though it were seasonal, like Easter or Christmas.

As for General Eisenhower's belief in our ability to cooperate with the Russians in June 1945, he said that after Teheran and Yalta, and he must have known in his position what was done at those conferences, or perhaps he was as deceived as Mr. Hull seems to have been. At any rate, those who connived at Teheran and Yalta and those who condoned and defended Teheran and Yalta ought not to be believed. They are not to be trusted. Until we get a new and undefiled leadership, there is no need of alarms, excursions and incitements. If Soviet Russia chooses to make war on us, let her not face those who helped Stalin to deceive the American people.

Wanted: One Militia

Force Needed To Back Palestine Decision.

ONCE Britain's Palestine mandate is terminated, the U.N. commission responsible for enforcing partition will be faced with the problem of averting full-scale civil war, reports the United Nations Bulletin.

May 15 is the deadline set for British control in Palestine but evacuation of troops may continue as late as Aug. 1. After May 15 the only task of the British will be to protect themselves and their lines of communication.

The U.N. commission charged with succeeding the British as the law-enforcement body in Palestine so far is without the wherewithal to back up its directives. All it has are instruments of authority from the U.N. and instructions to enforce a partition of the Holy Land — a partition which the Arabs have sworn they will oppose with every resource they can muster.

Meanwhile, Jews and Arabs continue clandestine recruiting and upon termination of the mandate will be ready to send out fair-sized armies ready for formal war.

It is the commission's view that the security forces of Britain must be replaced by an adequate non-Palestine force to assist the law-abiding elements among Jews and Arabs to maintain order and security. "Otherwise," the commission has warned the Security Council, "the period immediately following the termination of the mandate will be a period of uncontrolled, widespread strife . . . This would be a catastrophic conclusion to an era of international concern for that territory."

Meanwhile, the council has been unable to agree on any kind of security force to replace the British.

Master Formula for Bureaus

From The Boston Herald

WE NEED a simplified approach to our complicated contemporary problems. The lads in Washington operate through bureaus. When a problem arises a group of boys within a bureau sit down and within a year or so come up with a formula. A formula is a good thing; it makes for ordered thinking and systematic approach. Our difficulty is that scores of obtuse formulas engender confusion and tend to keep overlapping areas in separate categories. The thing we need is one overall, comprehensive, easily-understood, basic formula to use as a master key.

Since constructive criticism is the efficient approach, we offer the following as a formula to apply to all crises. Take the population of Bangor in 1902, divide by 17 and multiply the result by 1639.3. To this add the number of buffalo robes in use in New Hampshire during the winter of 1934 and multiply by the number of people in Pittsfield who used soap-stones as bed warmers in January, 1913. Now divide by the number of panthers seen in Vermont from 1908 to 1934, inclusive, and add the number of housewives in Boston who put raisins in their brown bread. This figure should be multiplied by the number of hall closets in New England in apple pie order on Feb. 21, 1940. Next add the number of women who are sufficiently perspicacious to place a few chunks of sharp cheese under the top crusts of apple pies. Finally, multiply this by the number of hard-milking cows on New England farms in 1926, and subtract the number of people who have remarked we are having an old-fashioned winter. This is an easily computed Master Formula which can be used by all government agencies to solve all economic, social and cultural problems.

Just a Minute

By Jack Tarver

Literally Representative?

An Alabama citizen, recently committed to a hospital for treatment of an alleged mental disorder, is demanding his release so he can campaign for congress.

He ought to feel right at home in Washington.

In fact, one of the greatest mistakes this country ever made was when it extended congressional immunity to cover lunacy writs.

Yes sir, it's not merely a figure of speech when our leaders call for sanity in government.

More and more it is coming to appear that ours is a government of people, for the people, by the inmates.

But whatever you may say about the mentalities of our elected officials, you can't get around the fact that none of them is half so crazy as those of us who elect them.

Why Oil Is Short

Americans are using 28 times more oil than all the rest of the world, Eric V. Weber, president of the Ohio Petroleum Marketers Association, said in commenting on the unprecedented demands being made on the industry.

This fact, together with others summarizing the present oil situation, is contained in a new eight-page booklet prepared by the American Petroleum Institute Entitled "Plain Talk on Oil Today," the booklet shows that while America's supply of petroleum stands at the highest point in history, demand has soared to record-breaking levels.

Until new wells, pipelines, refineries and storage plants are in full operation, the industry is soliciting the aid of the American people to conserve oil in homes and on the highways.

Words of the Wise

It is not a merit to tolerate, but rather a crime to be intolerant.—Shelley.

Encouraging Rural Doctors

Revolving Fund Scholarships Set Up for Farm Youths.

YOUNG MEN who will be country doctors can get college scholarships now.

Qualified medical students are receiving financial aid in an increasing number of states in a program to channel physicians into the areas where they are needed most—the rural regions.

A survey by the American Medical Association's committee on rural medical service last year put a finger on many sore spots. In dozens of counties there was one physician for every 1,500 or 2,000 or more persons. Sixty-eight counties had no doctors at all and 1,173 towns were seeking general practitioners.

The Illinois State Medical Society studied the situation and came to this conclusion.

"Doctors in recent years have tended both to originate in or settle down to practice in cities. Thus the supply of country doctors has become proportionately smaller and smaller."

The society and the Illinois Agricultural Association agreed to put up $50,000 each to finance the education of farm lads. From the $100,000 revolving-fund loans will be made to accepted medical students at the rate of $1,000 a year.

The money will be available to four new students each school year, beginning next fall. Each student must go to a town of less than 5,000 population in his home county and practice general medicine—not a specialty.

The A. M. A. committee reports that plans to place more doctors in sparsely settled sections are already operating in Alabama, Indiana, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina and Virginia. Similar plans are under consideration in several other states.

In most states the money is lent. The recipient usually is pledged to practice in some small town where he is needed. The time he must stay in such a location varies, but the longest is five years. If he remains that long in Indiana and Mississippi, the debt is canceled.

These programs can provide help for 200 young men each year. But they represent only one phase of the joint effort of medical and farm groups to improve rural medical service.

Some colleges sponsor preceptorships. Under this arrangement undergraduate medical students spend several months with an established country doctor. Some large university hospitals send interns and residents to smaller hospitals for a certain period.

Several medical schools are taking steps to emphasize general practice and de-emphasize specialism. This bucks a powerful current—a trend that has piled up medical manpower in cities and reduced the supply of family doctors in the hinterlands.

Jobs for Graduates

A COLLEGE graduate fresh out of school can start work today at a salary double what he would have been paid in 1939, a nationwide survey shows.

The survey also showed that the demand for the college graduate's services is at an all-time high, despite the return of many war veterans to civilian fields.

The survey was conducted by the family economics bureau of the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co., which has made an annual study of college placements through queries to 34 major universities and technical schools since 1935. Studies during the depression years revealed that only the top third of an average graduating class would be sure of stepping out of school into a job.

Northwestern said 18 of the schools polled this year reported that employment calls for winter graduates are even greater than last year, which had been considered a period of the most active employment demand "within the memory of most placement officials."

According to the survey, business administration and non-technical students can hop right into jobs that pay salaries ranging from $300 to $235 as soon as they shed their caps and gowns. Before the war, the same students could have expected only $95 to $110. Engineering students now average $240 to $275 to start, compared with a prewar range of $135 to $150.

On the average, today's starting salaries are from $10 to $25 a month higher than they were one years ago.

Northwestern reported an increase in the demand for sales personnel and said that the demand continues heavy for engineers and accountants.

Corporations will be all but waiting outside the graduation ceremony halls, offers in hand, this June when the students file out with their degrees, Northwestern reported. Some corporations are sending out scouts for spring visits.

Most men graduating this year, the survey revealed, are veterans averaging several years older than prewar graduates. Between one-third and one-half are married.

The Autoist and the Clinic

Those Safety Education clinical tests of chronic violators of the automobile laws to determine why they menace public safety are continuing. You have to read of the proceedings to believe 'em. Men and women under the rap of ignoring the auto laws are being run through a clinic and given blood pressure tests, etc., with the conviction this is a great move to make the roads safer.

* * *

Our clinical expert, Elmer Twitchell, has been participating in the tests and reports the following results to date:

Case A. (Man arrested for repeatedly crashing through the red lights).—Blood pressure high, respect for auto laws low; subject seems impatient and irascible type. Conclusion: Mere case suffering from general impatience and lack of common sense; subject should be allowed back on the roads at once pending series of mechanism tests.

* * *

Case B. (Youth habitually passes other vehicles on right, one of the greatest causes of auto accidents known to man.)—Blood pressure normal, pulse okay; faulty bridgework upper jaw. Conclusion: Dangerous behavior due to circulatory trouble, bad dental work and a Bo-Rogers complex; subject should be put back at wheel but under a new dentist.

* * *

Case C. (Dry martini fancier arrested for taking corners at high speed).—Clinical expert went over his alcoholic egg with every instrument in the case; too many white corpuscles, strong tendency to yodel at wheel; under examination says he has been operating a car for 35 years and hadn't had time to study traffic rules. Conclusion: Split personality; half of him wants to turn corner at 75 per hour, other half satisfied with 60. Recommend dropping of all charges and substitution of a good psychiatrist, a bottle of aspirin and a copy of the Clinic Manual entitled, "It's All Done By Mirrors."

* * *

Case D. (Woman gives no hand signals under any circumstances, makes habit of driving in middle of road and confuses horn with foot brake.)—Blood pressure high, pulse skipping, nerves terrific, says she tears up police summonses because they are never on glossy paper. Conclusion: Ignore fact she is a menace to life and limb and put her on a good nerve tonic.

* * *

Case E. (Man has never been known to obey speed limit or school zone sign. Plays harmonica while driving in heavy traffic; pulse okay for driving, if there's no ice on roads; response to questions shows deep ignorance of auto laws but keen knowledge of jet plane operation. Conclusion: Forget about court proceedings, he will be all right with daily massage, the right pills and wider highway construction. Summer hours of driving, might provide vitamins helpful to competent auto operation.

Look Pleasant, Please

By TRUMAN TWILL

By this time everybody has posed for an X-ray picture, so perhaps the matter will bear discussion.

That shadow in the right-hand corner is where your doodarsus is attached to the fim-texus which is under your ribs just below the whoodlepassimus. No, do not try to locate it on yourself because the whole thing lies just behind the fiddle-cardic and is sheathed in two layers of piscatorial tissue, which is extremely tough and an ideal place for parsology of the fiscal, or calendric, moratorium to occur in human beings, though dogs and white mice are immune.

The chances are that if you hadn't subconsciously posed for the picture because you are a show-off at heart and cannot resist the urge to put your best innards forward in the presence of a camera, your doodarsus would seem to be entirely separate from the fim-texus, which is one of the things that X-ray photographers must worry about when they are doing candid-camera work. Some people are easier to photograph than others.

For instance, here is a picture of H. M. S. Pinafore, taken only last week. It illustrates the matter perfectly. As you can see, the subject must have had the picture snapped in an unguarded and relaxed moment because the doodarsus and fim-texus are in normal juxtaposition and the whoodlepassimus is just where it should be, which is highly desirable. There is a nice view of the fiddle-cardic which is one of the most difficult things to arrange. And so we say goodbye to Mr. Pinafore and come back for another view of yourself.

You have a perfect exopuliac, which is something to be proud of. The exopuliac is the thing that looks like a transparent glass vase—you can see it plainly right there to the left of the tri-migratory septum of the meta-cornucopia. Its function is to maintain a proper balance between the fibial-holocaust and the excess of the ... ination, which frequently becomes enlarged in South Sea native females from eating too many betel nuts.

There is nothing in the picture that could possibly explain why you feel like a $4.50 girl at the end of a hard day's work. Quite the contrary, you should feel proud and happy over such a happy and harmonious arrangement of the units of your internal structure. It looks strong enough to withstand the strains and stresses of many more years of exposure to the vicissitudes of luck and fortune—and now you can shed that angel robe, put on your clothes, take your pocketbook in hand and pay the attendant on your way out, please. No, you can't take the pictures with you. They'll be on file in case anybody wants to take a good look at your fim-texus for a laugh.

WASHINGTON

THINK you'll get an income tax cut this year?

President Truman's talk to congress Wednesday may make a big difference in the answer.

But whether you do or not, you'll probably get some very dramatic fireworks. Take a look.

Our national debt is $253,000,000,000. Most of it is money the government borrowed to fight the war.

And the government is trying to pay off some of it, plus the interest which runs around $5,300,000 a year.

It can do this only when it has left-over tax money. That is: When the cost of running the government is less than the total tax money taken in. The difference goes to pay off some of the debt.

James Marlow

Earlier this year Mr. Truman and the Republican leaders in congress both said income taxes can be cut in 1948 and still leave money to pay on the debt.

They differ on how to do it:

1. Mr. Truman doesn't want the government to lose money on the deal. He wants any cut in income taxes made up by boosting corporation taxes.

2. The Republicans and some Democrats want to cut income taxes. Period. They don't want to make up the loss by boosting business taxes.

They figure: If we cut taxes but cut the cost of running the government at the same time, that will even things because—

GOVERNMENT EXPENSES then still will be less than total taxes collected and the left-over still can be used to pay on the debt.

Mr Truman not only is against that idea. He indicated he'll veto such a cut, if the Republicans pass it.

That would kill the cut unless two-thirds of house and senate voted to re-pass it into law over the veto. Getting a two-thirds vote is never easy.

The Republicans have only a majority in congress. They can't get up a two-thirds vote unless enough of Mr. Truman's fellow-Democrats vote with them.

They've been nopeful about that right along, saying in effect "We'll get enough Democrats to go along."

BUT ON WEDNESDAY Mr Truman talked to congress. He said the world picture is dark, we have to give Europe plenty of help; we have to build up our armed forces.

All that means more expense. How much? No one knows. Some Republicans have said such added expense wouldn't make a big difference.

Weeks ago the Republican-controlled house passed a tax-cut bill. And on Thursday the senate started to debate it. The Republicans control the senate, too, so it's almost sure to pass there.

Then it goes to Mr. Truman to be signed into law or be vetoed. Because of his Wednesday talk, he now has new ammunition for a veto.

He may send a veto message to congress, pitched on a dramatic plane, maybe something like this:

"I told you before we can't afford a cut like this unless you make it up by boosting business taxes. You haven't done this. Now, as I told you Wednesday, we face new expenses. National defense comes first."

What effect would such a message have on Democrats who, before Wednesday, might have joined the Republicans in voting down a Truman veto?

You'll soon find out. Maybe in another 10 days or two weeks.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

"SURPRISE, surprise!" enthused Mr "K" in schoolboy fashion as he stepped back of Dicky. "Isn't this something?"

"Dicky, oh Dicky!" I gasped as his arms went round me, and he kissed me warmly. "I am so glad you are here."

Dicky looked keenly at me, then glanced quickly at Georges, standing at formal attention at the other end of the room. Then he nodded imperceptibly, and I saw that he understood my need of him.

"I am very much here," he said "and you don't need to worry any longer about the journey back to the city. I shall be very much on the job."

He gripped my arm significantly, and I played up to the signal. Georges must not suspect that this further deflation was the reason for my joy in seeing my husband.

"I know of course that everything would have been all right on the journey back," I said. "But I am not ashamed to tell you that I shall be exceedingly glad of your escort."

"A very proper wifely response," my husband said, "and, of course you knew I would have bashed you a good clout on the side of your still beautiful dome, if you hadn't come across with it. But, haven't you any curiosity as to how I got here, or the reason for my coming?"

"There's only one possible reason," I replied calmly. "Father decided to have you come out. But how? That does puzzle me. Did he charter a private plane?"

"Nothing so spectacular," Dicky said with a grin, "but almost as fast. About five minutes after you left, he decided that he did not want you to come back with only the guards in attendance. While I dashed back to the hotel and made Katrina hep, he ordered up the other armored car to the Underwood house. We were less than half an hour behind you, and Bill, our driver, is almost as much a speed demon as Joe. We arrived less than five minutes ago, just in time to hear Katie announce in clarion tones: 'Dot dinner she ready, und eef folks no coom eat eet vile eet hot, I gin' keel somebody.'"

His imitations of Katie generally convulse me, but sudden housewifely anxiety was stirring me, and I gave only a perfunctory laugh as I put a hasty question.

"I wonder how Katie will manage about the extra food for you people," I said.

"And you've known Katie all these years!" he said. "I did the polite thing when I came in, and told her not to fuss for us, but to give us anything left over. She drew herself up, and informed me in apt similes that she never was caught with her slip showing, or words to that effect, and that, as she never knew in this house how many she was going to feed, she always made allowances for extras. She said she had two more chickens all cooked and that if we hadn't come, the family would have had to eat chicken hash for a week but that now, they could have a change. But, may I remind you, Sweet, of Katie's threat. We're likely to hear her war whoop, and see her tomahawk any second."

Mr "K" stepped unobtrusively past us, went to the side of Georges, who had replied with much stiffness to Dicky's careless, 'Hello Georges,' when he came into the room.

"Lead with your spouse, Dicky," he said. "I'll escort Georges to the dinner table. I assure you, Georges, it is worth a glance or two before you dig in."

"I am not particularly hungry," I heard Georges say flatly, and then Dicky was hurrying me ahead, and I guessed that Mr "K" was purposely making slow progress.

Two seconds later, Dicky glanced back over his shoulder just as we were about to turn a corner in the corridor.

"They're far enough behind," he murmured, prison fashion, in my ear. "You evidently have been having a strenuous interview with Georges. Both of you look as you had been run through a mangle."

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 19 — Selected stocks of companies with rearmament prospects continued to make some headway today although many market leaders faltered.

Belief that Washington will step up its defense program in the wake of the President's message still provided the principal bullish prop.

Dealings slowed after a fairly active start. Fractional irregularity prevailed near midday.

Douglas Aircraft touched a 1945 top but Boeing and Grumman slipped. Occasional gainers included Youngstown Sheet, American Woolen, Sears Roebuck, Goodrich, General Electric, Southern Railway and N. Y. Central.

Among stumblers were Pepsi-Cola (at a new low for the past year), U. S. Rubber, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Studebaker, Packard, Electric Power & Light, Westinghouse Electric, Johns-Manville, International Paper, Santa Fe, Great Northern Railway, United Air Lines and Paramount Pictures.

10,000 Employes Of C. & O. Idled by Strike

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, March 19—The five-day-old soft coal walkout today made deep inroads on steel and transportation, idling at least 12,000 to 15,000 workers.

If the 256,000 United Mine Workers, who demand $100 monthly pension, stay out over the weekend, many more thousands will be forced into idleness.

Biggest single layoff hit 10,000 employes of the coal-carrying Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad. R. J. Bowman, president of the line, said another 5,000 will be furloughed unless the strike ends by Saturday. Those laid off included transportation crews, maintenance of way and equipment personnel, and some clerical workers.

NLRB INVESTIGATES CHARGES AT GALION

He had previously conducted an investigation at Galion of similar charges filed by the union shortly after the 75 day strike.

QUIZZED IN COLLEGE KILLING. Former divinity student, James Singler (right), Bowling Green State university freshman, is questioned by Wood County Prosecutor Floyd A. Coller after, reportedly, admitting the shooting of 18-year-old Charles Wenzel of Centerburg, O., pre-medical student. Campus Shooting Action Awaits Lie Test Result

By The Associated Press

BOWLING GREEN, O., March 19—Authorities awaited outcome of a lie detector test today before taking further action in the campus shooting of 18-year-old Charles Wenzel of Centerburg, O.

Wenzel died early Wednesday of a bullet wound in his head.

Prosecutor Floyd A. Coller said another student, Jim Singler, 21, Sandusky, O., admitted pulling the trigger of a Belgian pistol in his own room, 140 feet away in another dormitory. Coller said Singler told police he believed the gun was empty.

Singler was held in Wood county jail without charge. He was to submit to a lie detector test at 4 p. m.

Authorities moved to remove all other guns on the campus. The university prohibits guns on its campus. Coller quoted Singler as saying the pistol he fired was one of several foreign guns owned by his roommate, Dean McKinnon, 21, Bethesda, Md.

WORKERS TEAR UP RED PAMPHLETS

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, March 19—An attempt to distribute communistic literature at the gates of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. plant here was broken up early today when first shift workers threw hundreds of pamphlets onto the wet sidewalks.

The pamphlets, criticizing President Truman's Wednesday speech to congress, were signed: "The Franklin County Communist Party." Plant guards said the literature was being distributed by two men and a girl, who fled after the workers tore the pamphlets out of their arms. Several of the pamphlets were confiscated by police and turned over to Police Inspector Thomas A. Scully, who said he would turn them over to the federal bureau of investigation.

March Wind Breaks N. State St. Windows

Prankish March winds are at it again. Pedestrians clutched hats and skirts as puckish gusts swept Marion streets about noon today playing hob with the unwary and raising the usual mischief. Not content with sending hats skimming along the streets and into the gutters, they blew with such violence along North State street that several panes of glass in the county jail windows shattered as did the front window at the Automotive Supply Co. across the street. Windows also were blown out in an apartment building immediately south of the jail.

One traffic accident and one court conviction were reported by highway patrolmen during the past 24 hours.

A car driven by James Coogle, 43, of near Edison and one driven by Mae Marr, 43, of Washington C. H., collided yesterday at 10:10 a. m. at the intersection of Boundary street and route 95 in Edison. Damage to both cars was minor and no personal injuries occurred.

Child's Injured Eye Not Yet Removed

Lee Franklin Workman, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Workman of 812 North Main street, who suffered an injury to his left eye Monday as a result of a shot from an air rifle, has not as yet lost the eye, according to a report today from the attending physician. He underwent an operation on the eye Monday night. The doctor said it can not be determined yet for several days whether or not the eye will have to be removed and that it is still in danger. Lee was removed to his home yesterday from City hospital and he is being confined to his bed there.

The accident occurred when a pellet, fired by one of several children playing with air rifles near the Workman home, hit a window of the house, causing a bit of glass to strike the child in the eye.

Meat Spoilage Is Threatened

By International News Service

CHICAGO, March 19—Millions of pounds of meat in strike-bound packing houses throughout the nation were threatened with spoilage today as the striking CIO union announced it would call out refrigerator men if the plants try to resume operations.

Ralph Helstein, union president, said 10,000 maintenance and refrigerator men throughout the country would be called off the job unless the big four packers cease their attempts to resume or continue operations.

The maintenance and refrigerator men were left on the job by the union to prevent meat in storage from spoiling.

Helstein's threat came as President Truman's three-man fact-finding board of inquiry prepared to reconvene today to continue its investigation of the strike.

To Finish Wednesday

Nathan P. Feinsinger, board chairman, said his group expects to complete its work by next Wednesday and then prepare a report on the strike to be delivered to Mr. Truman.

Approximately one hundred thousand members of the CIO United Packinghouse Workers who handle about half of the nation's meat production walked off the job last Tuesday morning. The strikers are seeking a wage increase of 29 cents an hour.

Mrs. Fenton said she gave her two-year-old son to a Westville couple; a daughter, five, to a Dayton couple; a daughter, four, to a Dayton couple; a daughter, six, to an Urbana couple, and a daughter, one day old, to a Dayton couple. She kept an eight-year-old daughter.

GALION HOSPITAL'S LAUNDRY BILL HIT

Special to The Star

GALION, March 19—Galion new service director who recently made a tour of City hospital, announced termination of the hospital's contract for laundry and linen service with the Independent Towel and Linen Supply Co. of Mansfield. Director Porter said his decision to cancel the contract was made after he had received "numerous and frequent complaints."

Porter's letter to the firm stated it had not fulfilled the terms of a contract awarded Aug. 26, 1947 at higher rates than had previously been in effect. The service cost the city $4,551.20 in 1947, according to figures of City Auditor Gloyd A. Frye, and under the terms of the August contract, would have cost about $6,000, this year (1948), if it were continued. Advertisement will be made for new bids to cover the laundry service of the hospital owned supplies.

Bricker Hits Red-Held Jobs

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 19—Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) said today communists are holding some strategic government jobs and they should be cleared out to avoid possible sabotage.

Bricker told a reporter that Russian moves over the globe have created a "bad" international situation. But "just as dangerous as the communists in this country especially is the way we are letting our government operate. He urged a thorough and swift housecleaning by loyalty boards and department heads. Loyalty boards now, he said, are working too slowly.

Bricker said there are "many" communists holding responsible positions. He added "one is too many. There should never have been any."

"They should be eliminated from responsible positions," he said, "so they could sabotage our war effort if there is trouble with Russia." Bricker said "the time has come for frank speaking and not lip-serving. President Truman should tell us whether the international situation involves military danger to this country.

"He has not told us that. I don't know whether he has information he has not revealed to Congress. But if there is danger of war the administration should tell us so." Bricker said he is opposed to universal military service. It "doesn't make soldiers," he said. "It disturbs and disrupts the lives of the youth of the land. "If there is war or imminence of war, we should adopt a selective service program.

School authorities said the boy had been matched with a 12-year-old classmate, Gilbert Azebedo. Both boys were in the seventh grade.

Operation for Heart Defects

Unfortunately, some children come into the world poorly fitted for life by reason of what might be called "structural" defects in the heart and the large blood vessels leading from it. In other words, the heart and its vessels are not formed after the usual pattern and hence their performance cannot be up to par. Such defects may not endanger life, but in nearly every case they will interfere with robust living.

In the past there was little that could be done about them. Very recently, however, highly skilled surgeons have perfected several operations for the correction of some of these defects. It is still not possible to correct all, but whenever one of these heart defects is present a careful study should be made by the doctor to determine whether it is of the type that surgery can benefit.

One of these defects which responds well to operation is known as patent ductus arteriosus.

Normally, the blood which comes from the heart to the large artery, known as the aorta, is carried thence through smaller and smaller vessels to the entire body. In patent ductus arteriosus, however, there is a kind of short circuiting of the blood to the lungs at the expense of all other tissues. Instead of traveling its normal course, the blood is allowed to pass from the aorta into the artery which goes to the lungs by way of a blood vessel that is always open before birth. Ordinarily, this vessel closes within a few weeks after birth. Why it should fail to close in a few babies, we do not know, but when it does the condition is called patent (or open) ductus arteriosus.

The signs of this condition consist of a loud heart murmur or sound which occurs with the beating of the heart. A thrill is also felt over the heart. The pulse pressure is increased. The pulse pressure is the difference between the pressure when the heart contracts and when it is relaxed. The child with this condition is usually underweight and is unable to exercise as vigorously as a normal child though the heart itself is only moderately enlarged.

To correct this condition, an operation is performed in which the open channel or patent duct is tied off. This will, of course, keep the blood from being carried to the lungs from the aorta and establish normal circulation.

Not all cases will require an operation, since the defect may not greatly affect health and growth. If however, the child is underweight, if the heart is somewhat enlarged and the child cannot exercise normally, it is likely that, as time passes, he will become more and more handicapped. In such instances, operation probably should be carried out.

Another one of the defects is called co-arctation of the aorta. This is a narrowing of the aorta, which, as I have said, is the large blood vessel coming from the heart. This narrowing causes an increased blood pressure in the vessels which run to the arms and the head as compared to the blood pressure in the legs. Many patients with this condition get along without any particular discomfort. In others, there may be dizziness and headache and numbness of the legs.

This condition also may be corrected by means of an operation. However, this operation is a prolonged and serious one, and, as a rule, doctors will only perform it in those cases in which the narrowing of the aorta is so great as to endanger life.

Questions and Answers

P. V. Fl. Is a fast heart beat serious?

Answer: Rapid heart beat may indicate some serious disorder of the heart. It may be produced by or a condition known as paroxysthyroid disease, rheumatic fever, or a condition known as paroxysmal tachycardia.

You are in need of an examination, including an electrocardiogram which is an electric tracing of the heart beat.

KING'S DAUGHTERS MEET

The Friendship circle of King's Daughters met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Glenn Riddle on Fies avenue. Mrs. Leona Sandersen conducted devotions and gave a reading, "Christian Wardrobes." Prayers were offered by Mrs. Clarence Crammer and Mrs. Sandersen. Mrs. Riddle presided for the meeting during which a contribution of $10 was voted to be given to a needy family. A Bible quiz was won by Mrs. Margaret Darling. Refreshments were served in keeping with St. Patrick's day. The April meeting will be with Mrs. Melvin Stanley on Clinton street.

PILLS SAVE FOOD, CALLED GREEN MAGIC

By BOB WEDDLE
United Press Staff Correspondent

DALLAS, Tex.—Elmore R. Torn has succeeded to grass. Not the long green stuff, but in pill form.

Torn, executive vice president of the Texas Chemurgic Council, going a long way to conserve food for the hungry people of Europe, is taking tablets of cerophyl. Cerophyl is the fancy name for dehydrated grass. Torn says 20 such tablets are enough to fill the vitamin requirements of an average person for one day.

Promote Longevity

Besides, the grass pills have chlorophyl "green magic" in them—a substance scientists say may prove useful in prolonging the life expectancy of man.

With the grass diet supplemented only by fruit juices and coffee, and perhaps an occasional helping of black-eyed peas and celery for bulk, Torn figures on saving 3,333 calories in one day—enough food for two Europeans.

Used Against Obesity

The meadow diet is not altogether new to Torn. Several years ago he used the cerophyl pills in an attempt to lose weight. They worked fine. He lost 54 pounds in three months.

The pills, which are produced from the tender green shoots of oats, barley, wheat and rye, smell like so much freshly-cured Johnson grass hay.

According to Torn's figures if everyone who consumes more than 3,000 calories a day took the pills to substitute for 1,000 of the calories, enough food would be saved to feed 30 000 000 persons.

HUNTING DOGS' TRIALS AT BUCYRUS SUNDAY

Special to The Star

GALION, March 19—The early annual spring coon dog field trial, sponsored by the Crawford County Coon Hunters association, is set for Sunday at the Crawford County fairground, Bucyrus, the president, P. W. Stall of Galion announced today.

Mr. Stall said the fairground affords good roads and plenty of shelter. Last spring when the early chase was held there 160 dogs were entered and run for a share of the guaranteed purse. Mr. Stall expects a larger entry Sunday. Dogs were entered last year from Michigan, Pennsylvania, and all parts of Ohio, including some of the best dogs in this vicinity. The coon dog field trial has become popular, Stall said, because it is the main source today for raising funds for re-stocking purposes. All profits from the field trials are for re-stocking and feeding of wild game. The Crawford county association ranks among tops in re-stocking, Stall explained. This spring the group bought and released 168 wild caught raccoon and have their orders placed with the Talmage Pheasant farm for a supply of matured pheasants to be released this June. These hen pheasants will still be in egg production when delivered and will nest and hatch young this summer.

Stall said that the trials Sunday will be held, rain or shine, and that lunch will be served.

Hal Boyle

I AM BRINGING UP all this because I have a "bump-out" on the back of my head myself. I got it last week on a visit to friends in the airborne troops at Ft. Bragg. I got it by slipping and falling in a bathtub.

When I came home, Frances took a look at the bandage and her eyes gave me a wife's wordless "well?"

"Fell in a bathtub," I mumbled. "It's nothing."

"You mean its nothing but another hole in your head?" She asked sweetly.

She didn't say she didn't believe me. In fact after I repeated five times exactly how it happened, she said with formal enthusiasm, "Oh, I believe you all right." Wives are so tactful.

At the office I explained the accident to the first five people who inquired. Their unanimous reaction: A wink and "Oh, yeah-h-h?" That cured me.

I TOLD THE NEXT guy that I had bent down to inspect a bear trap being shown me by a mountaineer, and the jaws had snapped shut on me.

"Gee whiz!" he said, "you could have been killed!"

After that I told other inquiring friends that: (1) I had been leaning out to watch a parade and the window banged down on me; (2) I had crash landed in a glider; and (3) I had made a parachute jump and come down on my skull rather than risk spraining my weak ankles.

Everyone was sympathetic. All believed me.

And I know right now what's in your mind. You're thinking: "What's Boyle trying to hide? How did he really get that bump on his noggin?"

Well, the truth is, I was run over by a darn fool stunting in a dirigible. And I'm lucky to be alive.

Scout Troop Holds Father-Son Program

A father and son program was held by Troop 2, Boy Scouts, sponsored by the Edison Junior High school P.-T. A. Wednesday night at the school. Some 50 Scouts and fathers were present.

Scouters in attendance at the meeting were James E. Frew, Marion district chairman, Charles Smith, Marion district commissioner, Juvenile Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, member of the Marion district committee, Mitchell Rech, senior field commissioner, Lowell Pollock, Cubmaster of Pack 2, sponsored by the Oakland Heights P.-T. A., and Owen Meddles, field Scout executive.

Paul and Carl Brown and Francis Hall, were welcomed into the troop and were awarded tenderfoot pins.

A U. S. Navy film, the Byrd expedition to the Antarctic, was shown by Chief Carl T. Prusnek of the Marion Naval Recruiting office and Chief R. Freeland of the Mansfield Naval Recruiting office.

An announcement was made of the opening dates of four camps sponsored by the Harding Area Council. The four camps are Camp Whiston on the Mt. Gilead lake, Camp Aumiller at Bucyrus, Camp Michael, in Crawford county and Camp Owens, south of Marion. An announcement was also made of the trip to be taken this summer to Philmont Camp in Cimaron, N. Mex., by 24 senior scouts.

Former War Plant Changed Into "City" of 14 Factories

By HILLIARD A. SCHENDORF
Associated Press Writer

PATERSON, N. J.—A plant which turned out aircraft engines during the war has been transformed into a sprawling industrial "city," with 10 city blocks of floor space and 14 factories.

Instead of becoming a post-war white elephant for want of a single firm big enough to occupy all of it, the plant, which was one of the largest for aircraft engines in the world, has taken in many tenants and turned to peacetime production.

The city of factories—which decided that "two (or more) can live as cheaply as one"—is setting the pace for others. A plant three times as big already is being converted the same way.

The converted plant was operated by the Wright Aeronautical Corporation during the war. But by 1945, the airplane engine firm had withdrawn to a single factory in Paterson.

Five Firms Form Pool

Five firms got together and bought 86 per cent of the plant. They formed Fair Lawn Industries, Inc., which bought the rest and now maintains all facilities. Then they leased the unoccupied parts of the plant to nine other firms with three others yet to move in.

The joint occupancy is proving a blessing to all, says General Manager George R. Jaqua.

"Should one firm have a bad year," he explains, "another is likely to have a profitable time. That makes the plant solid and helps provide work all the time for the labor force."

Joint maintenance of buildings and joint operation of the power plant is proving cheaper and more efficient than individual operation. More than 85 per cent of the entire plant is on the ground floor, eliminating elevators and extensive conveyor systems. There are large areas of unbroken floor space, now at a premium in industry.

Another Factory City

The former Wright Aircraft Plants 1 and 2 in Paterson, three times as large as Plant 3, have been sold to Webb and Knapp, Inc., New York real estate firm, which is converting them into another factory city.

The occupants of Plant 3 turn out such diverse products as automotive parts, printed ribbon and metal foil. So diverse are the industries that a weaving firm might buy its machinery from a neighbor. A third firm might print the ribbon it made, and a fourth might dye and print the cloth. A furniture upholstery firm might use cloth, and a lithographer might advertise the products of all.

The sprawling plant, with 650,000 square feet (15 acres) of floor space and 44 acres of ground, was built in 1925 for the Textile Printing and Dyeing Company of America. It went to war turning out aircraft engines in 1940, and it was sold to the present owners for $1,138,186.

Conversion to peacetime was pushed so fast that riggers waited with new equipment while heavy concrete floors were ripped up to receive it and other crews moved out heavy equipment that had turned out the plane engines.

ARTICLES ON MARION IN OPS MAGAZINE

Power Shovel Co. and Harding Memorial Featured.

The March issue of the Dela, magazine of the Ohio Public Service Co., might well be called a "Marion Issue" as the featured story is about Marion and the Marion Power Shovel Co. entitled "Home of the World's Largest Shovel." The article traces the development of the Shovel company from its beginning in 1884. Especial attention is accorded the giant Marion 5561 40-yard electric stripping shovel, the world's largest.

The back cover page of the magazine is devoted to the city of Marion. It carries an excellent picture of the Harding Memorial. The 500-word article on the back cover traces the history of the city from its founding in 1820 by Eber Baker down to the present planning of the city airport project by council.

Especially interesting to Marionites is the placing by the writer of Marion "at the hub of a 500-mile circle embracing 75 percent of the industrial activity in the country and 50 per cent of its population. Marion today has a population of 35,000 and the majority of its residents own their homes," the article points out.

AIRPORT HAS 20 PLANES

BUCYRUS—Bucyrus municipal airport, taken over by C. M. Giffin in 1944, has in three years, grown from two small training planes to the present field, home port today to 20 planes. The port now has three full time mechanics and three instructors, a new $11,000 shop hangar and $7,000 administration building. A total of 2,776 transient aircraft used the field facilities in the last few years covered in Giffin's report, presented to city council this week.

SMOKING PROHIBITED.

KENTON—An ordinance to prohibit smoking in Kenton theater buildings and school houses was passed this week by Kenton city council, which also set up stiff penalties for violations.

Standouts in Individual Performance Chosen on AP's 1948 All-Ohio Basketball Teams

Schuler, Stuber, Comstock Make Honorable Mention on "B" Team

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio Associated Press Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., March 19—Five seniors in class A, and three seniors and two juniors in class B, won places today on The Associated Press 1948 All-Ohio high school basketball teams.

Emerging from some 17,000 boys who launched the campaign last fall, the 10 youngsters were really standouts in individual performance, and each quintet constitutes a coach's dream team.

Two players in class A, and one in class B, repeated from last year. The two-timers in class A were Dick Messner, fine forward from Ashland, and SHelby Linville, Middletown's top threat who moved to center after being placed at guard a year ago.

Glen Hursey, Glenford's high-scoring star, who won a forward spot the last two years, was moved to center as he romped to a class B berth for the third time.

The selections, made by the state's coaches and sports writers, were based on the season's individual play leading up to the tournaments now in progress. Another team in each division will be named at the state finals April 1, 2 and 3.

Paired with Messner at class A forward was Paul Bucey, Toronto pointgetter who hit the hoop for 458 in 12 games. Messner had 324 for 19 tilts. Linville, a six-foot five-inch giant with plenty of basketball know-how, piled up 304 points in 22 contests.

The two guards were naturals at the defensive spots, as well as doing plenty on offense. They were Al Steegman of Findlay's unbeaten Trojans, who contributed 231 points in 23 games, and Nick Gagich of Mansfield who wrapped up 406 in 20 contests. Steegman moved up from the 1947 third team.

Voting Close

The voting was close, with Linville pacing the class A pack and winning the honorary captaincy of the class A squad. Such standouts as Dick Dawe of Lima Central, Frank Common of Alliance, Bob Pager of Salem, Bob Bush of Middletown and Charley James of Canton McKinley were forced to take second team berths, attesting to the caliber of the first stringers. Pager was named to the second team for the second straight year.

In class B the first team really rang the bell at scoring. Two comparatively small adding-machines took the forward positions as Carl Large of Kitts Hill and Ken Alessi of Yorkville moved in. Large, five feet nine and weighing only 150, scored 714 points in 31 games, while Alessi, five-seven and weighing 148, counted 845 in 32 contests.

Hursey, class B captain, in rolling to his third straight all-state berth had 804 for 34 games. A couple of six-footers, famed for their defensive ability, won the guard jobs. They were Maynard Goare of Edison, a junior, and Joe Johnston of Bremen, a senior. Hursey and Johnston will tangle tonight at Athens in the regional meet as Glenford with 33 wins and one loss meets Bremen which boasts 23 straight conquests.

The "one in a thousand" selections come from everywhere, and represent many of the 221 class A and 947 class B schools in the state. The coaches and sports writers used all the adjectives in the dictionary as they nominated 416 class A boys, and 703 class B players, for the all-star berths. Here they are:

HONORABLE MENTION

Among those receiving honorable mention in the class A division were Gallant of Bucyrus, Kent of Upper Sandusky, Theisen of Columbus West, Zeller of Bexley, Burns of Ashland and Readout of Columbus Central.

Dick Schuler and Bob Stuber of Marion St. Mary and Kenneth Comstock of Caledonia were Marion county men chosen for class B honorable mention. Among the others chosen were Parsell of Marseilles, Kingsmore of Marysville, Shugert of Marengo, Hilyard of Bremen, Orians of Carey and Metzger of Sunbury.

"Pro" Outfits, Kentucky, Holy Cross Will Meet in NCAA Finals Tomorrow

International News Service

NEW YORK, March 19—It will be the two "pro" outfits—Kentucky and Holy Cross—in tomorrow night's basketball final for the Eastern NCAA play-off at Madison Square Garden.

The winner will meet the Western champion for the national title.

The "amateurs" in the eastern tournament—Columbia and Michigan—didn't even extend Kentucky and Holy Cross in the semi-finals last night. Kentucky, a 10-point favorite, swamped Columbia, 76-53. Holy Cross, the defending champion and a three-point choice, had another walk-away in smothering Michigan, 63-45.

Kentucky's aggressive and superior height and speed beat Columbia. Holy Cross was simply too slick for baffled Michigan.

Kentucky also displayed much better markmanship.

Wah-Wah Jones, Al Groza and Ralph Beard of the Wildcats accounted for 53 points among them, as much as the entire Columbia squad.

Walt Budko, tall Columbia center who had cracked all scoring records in the Ivy league, was held to 17 points.

Bob Cousy, with 23 points, did even better for Holy Cross than did Jones with his 21 for Kentucky. Cousy, George Kaftan, Joe Mullaney and Frank Oftring dazzled the fans—and the Wolverines—with a brilliant passing exhibition.

Michigan spent itself in one dazzling rally in the first half. The Wolverines, trailing 13-9, ran up a 21-16 advantage with the deceptive Mack Suprunowicz spearking the rally.

Then Holy Cross put on a brilliant display of ball-handling, holding Michigan to only one free throw in seven minutes, got in front and continued to pull away steadily.

Feller Leads Indians To 4-1 Win Over Bucs

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 19 — Thanks mainly to five innings of hitless hurling by Bobby Feller, Cleveland Indians won a 4 to 1 exhibition triumph last night over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Entering the game after Bob Lemon had given the Pirates one run on two hits in the first three innings, Feller breezed through his chore in effortless fashion.

Steve Gromek took over in the ninth and set the Pirates down in order.

A triple by Manager Lou Boudreau sent Allie Clark home in the first inning to open the Indian scoring. Boudreau then completed his trip around the sacks on Joe Gordon's infield grounder.

A circuit clout in the second by catcher Jim Hegan added another marker for the Tribe and they gained a cheap run in the sixth to end their scoring.

TO ACT ON BEULAH

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 19 — Beulah Park's request for running race dates this spring and fall will be considered next Wednesday, the state racing commission said today. Approval of the proposed dates—May 8-31 and Sept. 25-Oct. 23—has been held up by the track refusal to install totalizators.

Sports Shorts

By BILL DIEM
Star Sports Editor

FRITZ HOWELL, Ohio sports editor of The Associated Press, says it's a tougher trick to make the AP's All-Ohio schoolboy teams than it is to make All-American because of the greater number of high school athletes... That makes the boys who make the teams, even honorable mention, feel pretty good. Caledonia and Marion St. Mary can pop a couple of vest buttons over the selection of some of their basketball players on the All-Ohio honorable mention list... Caledonia's Kenneth Comstock, leading scorer in the county and a unanimous All-County choice made it as did Dick Schuler, Irish scoring ace, and Bob Stuber, brilliant Irish guard. Big Bill Dennison, the center the Irish lads fear the most, made the All-Ohio second team... Dennison plays for Carey.

BRIEFS FROM the St. Patrick's day banquet: Walter Anderson, who had to miss some of the Irish celebration Wednesday to attend the Golden Gloves bouts at the Armory, was lauded by Irish Coach Gene Fetter as the mentor of the city touch football champions—the St. Mary graders... Anderson was the quarterback of the Irish gridders in 1946... The Irish graders have just about earned the city cage championship too... Their coach is Jimmy Cusick... Because of the mild kick St. Mary parents occasionally put up about the disappearance from the locker room of their youngsters' towels, Fetter gave Walter Schuler, father of grid and cage star Dick, a supply of towels to hand out to the parents of the seniors... Gene brought down the house when he revealed, while urging the parents to back athletics, that "without parents, we could have no team."... Forest Sharrock came in for some ribbing because of his nickname "Trees"... The word is that he may be St. Mary's football coach if Gene Fetter leaves for a college position, which isn't unlikely considering the fine records his teams have produced... The Irish athletes are going to condition at the Y.M.C.A. all spring and summer, said Fetter... They'll block dummies and shoot baskets to improve their skill... Kevin Krigbaum, football guard last season, will be the Irish center next fall... Kevin, who hopes to become a doctor, has been getting in some journalistic practice this winter, writing sports for the Star... Seniors who have appeared in a St. Mary uniform for the last time are Joe Maniaci, Dick Schuler, John Granger, Tom Wagner, Dick Werley, Ed Murphy, Dick Drake, John Baldauf, Bob Stuber, Jim Moloney, and Dan Smith.

Columbus Central, Marysville Lose in Regional Tournament

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 19—Ohio's only two undefeated high school basketball teams tangle tonight with tough opposition in regional contests that will bring survivors in the 1948 title race to 16 teams.

Findlay (23-0) takes on Mansfield Madison (20-2) at Toledo's class A regional. Bremen (27-0) meets Glenford (33-1) at Athens' class B regional.

Hamilton Catholic, one of the class A favorites, kept right on rolling in the Cincinnati regional, whipping Columbus Central's fine team 43-27 last night in a battle of once-beaten squads.

In the only other class A contest, Coshocton trounced Steubenville, 54-39, at New Concord.

Although most of the state's fans trained an eye on the Hamilton Catholic game at Cincinnati, most of last night's firing took place among the class B teams. The results:

Marseilles Out

Lima St. Rose 43, Marseilles 41; North Canton 47, Akron Ellet 33; Midvale 43, Middlebranch 34; Holgate 42, Troy-Luckey 40; Loveland-Wayne (Cincinnati) 30, Marysville 26.

Hamilton Catholic pulled away from Columbus Central's Pirates early in the second quarter at Cincinnati. The Columbus lads never quite caught up. By half-time, Hamilton held a 30-22 advantage, which had narrowed to 38-33 at the three quarter mark.

But Columbus came within one point three times in the third quarter, then threatened again in the fourth period before tiring and slipping back for good.

Over at New Concord in the other class A game, Coshocton rode out one of the roughest games of the year. Officials called 65 personal fouls, 38 on Steubenville and 27 on Coshocton. Coshocton controlled the ball through most of the game and set up a tight zone barrier which held Steubenville at bay. Forward Pete Polovina hit 20 points for Steubenville.

Loses Lead

Loveland-Wayne of Cincinnati Springfield against Marysville. Marysville led, 13-10, at half-time.

But center Tom Williams topped the class B drama, netting two foul shots in the final minute for Lima St. Rose's winning edge. The lead changed six times in the second quarter. Lima led, 19-18, at halftime.

Spurts of field goals in the final minutes appeared a class B trademark last night. North Canton's Vikings pulled the stunt for a decision over Akron Ellet, a former class B state champion. They dead-locked 18-18 at half-time.

Holgate pulled one out of the fire against Troy-Luckey. The count was knotted with a minute to go but a field goal turned the trick. Holgate had trailed for three periods.

Only Midvale pulled away early and stayed there. The score was 10-all at the end of the first quarter, but Midvale's speed in the second period paid off.

Upper Defeats Prospect In Gallery Match

Prospect Rifle and Pistol club shooters were defeated by Upper Sandusky, 926 to 910, in their last Northwestern gallery match of the season in a two position event Tuesday night.

Prospect will probably place fourth in the Southern division of the Northwestern league. Final standings have not been compiled.

Other shoots include one in the Central Ohio league held at Richmond, Ind., Sunday. Prospect scored 965 out of 1200.

Future matches include a practice match at Galion March 29. The Prospect teams will fire in the Ohio Gallery tournament at Columbus April 11. In addition to the listed shoots, Prospect will fire two practice matches, one with Mansfield March 21, and the other with Meeker the 30th. The first will be run on the home range and the other at Mansfield.

He dropped Robert Shenefield for the count in his only match.

Featherweights: Richard James, 122, of Marion who ko'd Joe Davis for his first win, and decisioned Kenny Chevalier in his second; Lawrence Strahm, 126, of Carey who decisioned Don Maples for his only win. He did not fight Monday.

Pairings of any of the above fighters in each division will make for an interesting program with someone certain to end in a horizontal position. The exact schedule, as has been followed throughout the tournament, will not be known until time for the gong. Some of the boxers will of necessity fight twice in the finals. Unsatisfactory as the system is, drawing for bouts is the only way the fights can be run off in the limited time of three days.

State Finals at Toledo

State A.A.U. finals will be staged in the Sports Arena in Toledo March 29 and 30. Weighing-in for the local boxing exponents will take place Monday afternoon, March 29, according to Joe Yannitel, local chairman. A picture of each champion is to be sent to Charles Wertz, chairman of the state A.A.U. tournament, he said. These pictures will be taken in the ring immediately after the final bout. Fighters will have their hands wrapped in view of the audience for the title matches.

State champions will go to Boston, all expenses paid, to fight for the national titles April 5, 6 and 7. From there, the champion of each class will travel to England to compete in the Olympics. With this opportunity in view remote as it may seem, it is still incentive enough to bring out the best in the local contenders tonight.

Bucky Walters Makes 1948 Mound Debut Today

By The Associated Press

LAKELAND, Fla., March 19—Bucky Walters the veteran Cincinnati right-hander who has won 198 games in his 14-year major league career, thinks maybe he can extend his big league baseball life with the knuckle ball.

Bucky makes his 1948 debut today against the Detroit Tigers. He had an 8-8 record last year. In 1939 he turned in 27 victories while losing 11.

Behind the five-hit pitching of Tommy Hughes and Harry Gumbert, the Reds scored their second victory of the Grapefruit league season over the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday, 3-2.

The only hit off Hughes in the four innings he worked was a first inning homer by veteran Terry Moore.

The Reds climbed on Red Munger for all of their runs on four hits in the opening round.

New Three-Cent Stamp Tribute to Mississippi

The U. S. Postoffice department is bringing out a three-cent commemorative stamp honoring the one-hundred fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of the Mississippi territory, it was announced today by Postmaster Homer D. Cole.

Printed by the rotary process and electric-eye perforated, the stamp will be maroon in color. The central design is an outline map showing the Mississippi Territory and its growth from 1798 to 1812, and the left portion is a dark tone denoting the state of Mississippi today. Upon the map is superimposed the seal of the Mississippi territory reproduced from its original form wherein the second syllable in Mississippi has only one "s." In the upper right portion of the stamp is a portrait of Governor Winthrop Sargent, the first governor of the territory and the stamp bears the dates 1798, 1804 and 1812, denoting the area of the territory at this time.

The stamp will be placed first on sale at Natchez, Miss. on April 7 and at the Marion postoffice on April 8.

Infra-red radiation was discovered as long ago as 1800.

LAUSCHE AND MILLER IGNORE EACH OTHER

By The Associated Press

MIDDLETOWN, O., March 19—Two Cleveland men, who are considered top contenders for the 1946 Democratic gubernatorial nomination, appeared on the same platform here last night but neither gave indication by word or action that the other was present.

However, before the meeting Ray T. Miller declined a newsman's request that he pose for a picture with his opponent former Governor Frank J. Lausche.

"We do not consider that there is another Cleveland man in the race for the nomination," Miller declared.

Lausche, who had not yet been asked to pose, did not comment when told of Miller's remark.

The former governor, who talked for eight minutes, said the 1946 governor's race was fought on the basis of lifting price controls.

"Price controls were lifted and we didn't win," he declared. "Now the people have food without price controls but not enough money to buy that food."

Miller also spoke briefly, describing himself as "an organization Democrat and a good party man all the way through."

The former Cleveland mayor urged protection of the two-party system "to save ourselves with the world as it is today.

"If a third party should gain strength," he added, "it would tear down the whole Democratic pattern of our government and open the way to communism."

The third speaker of the evening, Cael Sullivan, executive director of the national Democratic committee, urged support of President Truman's recent plea for a stronger nation.

A former resident of Cleveland, Hanna waived removal proceedings and had no comment on his arrest.

The agent said he was arrested at a New Orleans hotel with more than $10,000 in cash.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

GOV. EARL WARREN, born March 19, 1891, is the son of a master car builder who once lost his job in a strike. The California governor still carries a musician's union card, but some labor leaders have been hostile to him. He refused the Relican nomination as vice president in 1944. Then and since he has been a "dark horse" prospect for the Presidential nomination.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The federal employment and unemployment services are without bosses at the moment . . . . Twin brothers would be nice.

* * *

Or a good government administrator with two heads and two head sets.

* * *

I hear the last boss of the employment service is sitting on a bench at the unemployment service waiting for something to run up.

* * *

And the last boss of the unemployment service phones the employment service every day and says "Anything new?"

* * *

Mr. Truman wanted to put both agencies in the labor department but congress said "No" . . . It wouldn't be right.

* * *

Employed workers of the unemployment service wouldn't feel right with so many unemployed workers of the employment service out of work.
